Description of this Study Program

DISCOVER the Aramaic New Testament Study Program is Jesus Spoke Aramaic's flagship one-year Study Program designed to bring Aramaic to the world. This highly inspiring Program brings a fresh new perspective on Christianity while re-connecting the Bible to its ancient past, and bringing the Bible back to its authentic cultural roots. This Study Program make Aramaic accessible to all Bible believers, allowing you to see for yourself the many practical everyday insights that Aramaic can bring to enrich your life and show you what you are missing in Bible translations - and even the Greek New Testament.

In this interactive Discovery Program, you will explore the Aramaic words of Jesus and the disciples, understand Aramaic idioms, draw fresh insights from the rich Aramaic heritage of the New Testament, uncover the many Aramaic word plays that are missing in English and Greek New Testaments, and gain fascinating new insights into familiar passages. The Bible will come alive like never before!

The Discovery Program will reveal the remarkable history of the Aramaic New Testament from the days of the apostles onwards, and will showcase the many ancient Aramaic Bible Manuscripts of the Old and New Testaments – manuscripts which are only now being brought to light and have never before been seen by the public. Nearly all of these manuscripts have been newly photographed under the Aramaic Bible Manuscript Project, with joint co-operation between the British Library in London, UK and Ewan MacLeod at JesusSpokeAramaic.com.

These manuscripts from the British Library have never before been unveiled to the public. They have never before been photographed or made available to the public, and you will be amongst the first Bible students ever to see them. These manuscripts fill an entire chapter in Bible history that has not yet been made available to the public. They fill the period from the Dead Sea Scrolls to the later Medieval manuscripts – that is, from about the time of Jesus to around 1000 B.C., when Bible manuscripts are better preserved and generally more widely available.

This Study Program is suitable for Bible believers of all backgrounds and levels of knowledge. It is not an academic course, and does not provide a detailed coverage of Aramaic grammar, nor on learning vocabulary, nor on studying Aramaic texts in detail.
